But which was burned out in the recent fire, repaired, remodeled, and fitted up in the best manner, with all the modern instruments and appliances for the performance of all kinds of operations in DENTISTRY. Inform his old friends and patrons, and the public generally, that he is at home again in the same old spot, where he would be happy to see them and wait upon them with anything wanted in the Dentistry line.

He would call special attention to his new apparatus for generating Nitrous Oxide Gas, Sprague's Patent—the only generator that makes a pure and uniform gas, and the only one of the kind ever in this city.

He continues also his specialty of administering ether spray, which is fast taking the place of the old method of inhalation, being entirely safe, to the most delicate persons.

Please give him a call at his new rooms.

BAYONETS VS. BALLOT-STUFFERS.

The Democrats of New York are making a loud outcry over the arrival of United States troops in the vicinity of that city, and the assertions that these forces are to be used in violation of the rights of citizens by carrying the election at the point of the bayonet are taken up by the newspapers of the party throughout the country, until the air is filled with inflammatory denunciations of the law as unconstitutional and the President as a despot who is using the military power of the nation to sack the very citadel of civil liberty.

This sort of thing may answer very well for firing the Democratic heart and inciting the ignorant masses to a more bitter hatred of everything connected with the Republican party; but sensible people on both sides understand perfectly that the purity of the franchise in New York is in no danger from the national forces, which are sent there to aid in enforcing the provisions of a wise and just law, designed to protect honest citizens in the exercise of rights which have hitherto been usurped by the gangs of organized ruffians who have inaugurated a political reign of terror in the city and throughout portions of the State.

The gigantic frauds, constantly increasing during the past ten years, have latterly assumed proportions in New York that have rendered popular elections a mockery and disgrace. The wishes of the people no longer control the choice of their own officers, the principles of public policy or the legislation of the State. They have been robbed of all their political rights by a band of unscrupulous villains who, having secured control of the immense revenues of the city through the secret agencies of the Tammany organization, have used the people's money to debauch the suffrage, corrupt the judiciary and invest themselves with a power that has enabled them to bid defiance to law and justice, while openly perpetrating outrages upon both which has been a dishonor to American civilization and a shame in the eyes of the world.

Tweed, Sweeny, and their confreres manipulate the legions of Tammany repeaters and these swarming banditti by swelling the vote of the city to any figures demanded by their masters, overpower the efforts of the interior population and control the political power of the Empire State. For years the heavy majorities throughout the balance of the State have been overborne by ballot-stuffers and perjured canvassers of the city, and prior to the adoption of the late election act the organizers of these frauds had so perfected their rascally system that they could secure the return from the city wards of any number of votes required to carry the election in their favor.

In 1866, Hoffman carried the city by a majority of forty-seven thousand in a canvass which brought out a heavy vote on the issue of the XIVth Amendment; but in 1868—having become proficient in the business of what the World stigmatized as shameless and cunning frauds—the Tammany managers raised the total vote of the city over forty thousand and added over twenty thousand to Hoffman's previous majority. The means by which these frauds were accomplished were notorious at the time; but the punishment of the principal offenders was found to be impossible in courts created for the purpose of shielding criminals rather than the dispensation of justice, and whose prominent officers were implicated in the offences.

Thousands of naturalization papers were signed in blank by the County Clerk,—then a candidate for another office—and were hawked about at so much per dozen or hundred to suit the wants of purchasers, and the holders of these papers were sworn through by hundreds at each session of the Judges, dozens at a time being passed on an oath of identity by a single individual, employed by the day to certify to the eligibility of aspirants for citizenship. The reports of the proceedings of these courts as published from day to day in the city papers were astounding in their exposition of judicial corruption, and their statements have never been successfully called in question.

The registration of voters was conducted with the same defiance of law and public decency, the minions of the Ring being detailed with military precision to march in squads from district to district and register under names and addresses compiled beforehand by their leaders. The frauds were transparent, but challenging was useless as the registration officials were under the same influence as the repeaters. Subsequent examination showed that many localities had been largely "colonized" in this way, many by mistake registering from the same house, in one instance some twenty odd persons having registered and voted as residents of the private house of a prominent city official, and 634 votes being thrown in one district where the late census gives a total population of but 870.

On the evening of the election outrages occurred at various canvassing stations throughout the city. In some cases the ballot-boxes were removed to a private room to be counted by Democratic officials, in others the gas was extinguished by rowdies who flung handfuls of ballots into the pile being counted and at nearly every station some lawless demonstration was made for the purpose of tampering with the vote. The returns from the various precincts which should have been returned at an early hour, were detained until peremptory orders were issued from Police headquarters for their delivery, and they were kept back still longer to enable the conspirators to hear from the interior, whence returns had been ordered sent by telegraph at the close of the polls, that they might calculate the majority needed in the city to assure them of carrying the State.—These transactions were imitated in Brooklyn, where a Democratic Mayor misused his position to entrust the counting of votes almost entirely to members of his own party, and a number of city officials and a Police Justice were subsequently convicted of frauds at the election, through the exertions of a Democratic District Attorney who has since paid the penalty of opposing the schemes of Tammany.

In view of such outrages as the above and their constant and alarming increase Congress has deemed it necessary to protect the rights of citizens as against the unlawful usurpations of lawless individuals, and the recent law is designed simply and solely to secure to every legal voter his privilege of exercising the right of suffrage, and to restrain and punish the criminals who attempt to defeat an honest expression of the popular will. It is the plain duty of the President to execute the law, and in view of the disturbances which have hitherto occurred in New York and the open threats of resistance which have been made, it is as plainly his duty to provide that the civil officers of the government shall be assured by ample protection in the performance of their duties.

This is the cause of assembling troops in the vicinity of New York, and all lovers of law and order should rejoice that such precautions have been taken to prevent a repetition of the disorders of 1868. The instructions issued by the military commanders have been explicit and well considered, and unless an adequate emergency arises the troops will not be called into requisition. We do not anticipate that it will be necessary to employ them; as the fact of their availability will probably be sufficient to repress any outbreak; but in case of such a riot as Democratic counsels are calculated to provoke we shall be glad to know that the officers of the government are to be protected from the ballot-stuffers, if necessary, by the bayonet.

The Herald ridicules the cry of "bayonets and bombshells," so clamorously kept up by the Democracy of New York city, and justly ascribes the excitement to a guilty dread of justice. It says:—"We may believe all that is said by our Democratic contemporaries the national administration is preparing to carry things 'with a high hand and an outstretched arm' on election day. Attorney General Akerman, we are told, has come to town to tighten the screws of the new election laws of Congress, and General Butler, who understands such things, has been called in to help Akerman. The United States forts, we are informed, are being filled with soldiers to carry the polls, if necessary, by the bayonet; and, as a last resort, several vessels of war are to be held in readiness to shell the city. We incline to the opinion, however, that the polls will not be carried by the bayonet, and that the city will not be shelled on election day, but that from the precautions taken for law and order we shall have a very quiet and orderly election. The moral of all this electioneering fuss is that,

'No rogue e'er felt the halter draw
With good opinion of the law.'"

A paragraph in Saturday's edition should have read: How Tammany protects its own is shown by the facts that while an application for bail was peremptorily refused in the case of Theodore Allen, a Deputy Mashal arrested on a trumped up charge, on account of his activity in preventing violations of the election law—although his counsel offered twenty sureties to the amount of $200,000—the two Tammany repeaters, Jaquins and Murphy, charged with illegally procuring persons to register as voters, were promptly admitted to $15,000 and $10,000 bail respectively, for their future appearance.

From the following remarks in a recent speech of B. Gratz Brown, the bolting candidate for Governor in Missouri, it would appear that the gentleman was as fierce in opposing the liberation of the slaves as he now is in his anxiety to restore the State to control of their late rebel masters. His present snarling at the heels of the President will prove as ineffectual in disturbing the march of events as that terrible threat of removing his "epaulets," in arresting Emancipation:

He did not care the snap of a finger for the opinion of the President in this question of internal politics. He had been one of those who had helped to teach the President what freedom meant when he came to Missouri, in 1861, declaring that if this war meant the liberation of the slaves he would strip off his epaulettes and abandon the service.

WAR NOTES.

The London Times doubts if England should not, like America, abandon her scrupulous (?) neutrality and afford supplies to both belligerents.——A Berlin dispatch says King William has communicated to General Von Falkenstein his desire for the removal of all obstacles in the way of independent voting and for the discontinuance of penalties for holding public meetings. The King also orders Von Falkenstein to release those prisoners already arrested for violating such laws.——The Great Powers have returned favorable answers to the candidature of the Duke of Aosta for the Spanish throne.——The Court of Inquiry which has been investigating the blowing up of the citadel of Laon, acquits French commander of all responsibility for the outrage.——A letter from Garibaldi says he at first sympathized with Germany, when she sought the overthrow of Napoleon, and he sympathizes with France because she has made herself a Republic.——A soldier at Spandau grossly insulted Lord Loftus, the British ambassador to Prussia, and was severely punished.——The French government has issued a decree ordering a trial by jury in all cases.——Dispatches from Tours report that Gen. Michel has been appointed to succeed Gen. Cambriel in command of the Eastern Department.——It was rumored in London on Friday that a German corps had been routed between Beaugency and Mont Hioland.——The people of Amiens display intense ardor in the defense of their city.——Gen. Trochu's plan of operations is said to be as follows: "A most thorough organization of his troops, the habit of working together in masses, drilling, discipline, blind obedience, punishment of cowardice by death. Then he goes through the process of testing each corps by making sorties. At this the new troops take turns. Thus they get accustomed to stand fire, and by numerous little successes learn that the enemy are not really invincible."——By the capitulation of Metz every French officer of known skill and ability, with the exception of Bourbaki and Trochu, has been made prisoner of war. The surrender includes three Marshals of the Empire—Bazaine, Canrobert and Leboeuf—and such distinguished Generals as Frossard, Picard, l'Admirault, Decaen, d'Erville, Changarnier and others. In addition, there are a large number of officers who have won distinction on the battle-field. Of the war material which has fallen into the hands of the Prussians, nothing positive can be said. It must be immense, however, as it has been stated that there were 300,000 Chassepot rifles stored in Metz.

LETTER FROM BELFAST.

BELFAST, Oct. 29, 1870.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

These are not the melancholy days of autumn of which the poets sing; but instead they are so lovely that they prove a panacea for spleen, blues, melancholy et id omne genus. Last Thursday gave us the only premonition of winter yet experienced. At sunrise the mercury in the thermometer was down to 10°, and a squall of hail and snow occurred at sunset. The ground froze the night before for the first time for the season.

The Belfast & Moosehead Railroad is finished! Now we are of the citizens of Maine, one and equal, and we can come and go despite of cold, ice, storms, or mud. The track was finished yesterday and is ready for the first through train from Burnham. The Directors will go through to Burnham Tuesday morning and meet the committee from the Maine Central, who will view the route.—There is no doubt but the road will be accepted, as it is one of the best built in New England.

Court adjourned this forenoon till next Monday. Only three cases have been tried yet, but two divorces decreed. The last case was Elliott vs Grant, and this was the fourth trial the jury having disagreed each time before. It was given to the jury last night and they shortly brought in a verdict for plaintiff in $3,028.

The County Teachers' Institute at Searsport last week was a success. Town Institutes of two days each will be held at Lincolnville, Montville, Monroe, Freedom, Winterport and Belfast, commencing November 8th.

Sheriff Calderwood received two new prisoners to-day—one from Winterport and one from Knox county.

Our course of lectures is now a sure thing. Among those engaged are, Saxe, Mrs. Livermore, Whipple, Parsons, Du Chaillu, and Murray.

Potatoes selling for 60 cents. Q.

Joseph Stone of Hooksett, N. H., was arrested at that place on Friday, charged with bigamy. The two women appeared and testified against him, and in default of $400 bail he was brought to Concord jail to await the next term of Court.

A GOOD MAN TO QUELL A RIOT. Of Gen. Thomas C. Devin, one of Sheridan's cavalry lieutenants, who will have immediate command of the troops assembled in and around New York city for the purpose of protecting the purity of the ballot box on election day, a Washington correspondent relates this anecdote:

"It was at the Five Forks, when Sheridan, moving along the lines, was hailed by Devin, 'General, when I hear the infantry firing on both wings I will charge in the centre.'—'Have you ammunition enough?' responded Sheridan. 'I haven't much, but I've got enough to give them another surge,' shouted Devin." The only complaint of him on file at the War Department is that he never heard an order to stop firing.

Gen. Burnside has arrived in London.

Space is valuable in a newspaper, and it is therefore proposed in this advertisement to condense a variety of facts, important to the public, into a small compass. GAMBETTA DENOUNCES IT AS TREASON

THE NEWS CONVEYED TO NAPOLEON.

Consternation of the Bonapartists.

THIERS FURNISHED A PASSPORT TO PARIS

The Last Summons to Surrender.

NEXT, THE BOMBARDMENT

THE BATON OF FIELD MARSHAL CONFERRED ON THE CROWN PRINCE AND FREDERIC CHARLES

A BALLOON FROM PARIS

Tours Oct 30 It is announced that a balloon from Paris descended within the French lines near Strasbourg, day before yesterday, with letters and dispatches of which a vast multitude are expected here to-morrow.

Advices from various departments in the west confirm the reports of the retreat of the Prussians.

is still acting on the offensive and will continue the attack so successfully begun.

Nothing official has been received from the army of the Loire.

REPORTED FRENCH SUCCESSES

Amiens Oct 28 via Tours Oct 29 The Prussians were defeated at Ferrieres this morning, by the troops of the line Mobiles and a small force of artillery.

The village of Bouviere was burned by the enemy's petroleum shells.

The French still hold the railway from this place to Rouen and communication between the two cities is perfect, notwithstanding the repeated attempts of the Prussians to destroy it.

A dispatch just received from Nogent le Rotrou says that the Prussians have evacuated Courville in the department of Eure et Loire near Chartres, after an engagement with the Mobiles and volunteers.

Rouen, Oct 28 The Prefect of this Department telegraphs to the Ministry at Tours to-day that the enemy pursued by the French cavalry, had hastily retreated upon Beauvais and Longport. A force of Prussian cavalry estimated at 1200 strong, has also left Chartres for near Chartres.

GAMBETTA AND BISMARCK

Washington Oct 29 Information from an official source by cable was received to-day—Bismarck does not consider Gambetta's note a proposition for armistice. He thinks the proposition should come from France.

M. Thiers will probably be permitted to go to Versailles but there is an uncertainty about his being allowed to enter Paris.

Tours Oct 29 The telegraph wires having been maliciously cut near Orleans, the Prussians exacted an additional tax on the town as a punishment.

Nearly all the departments now held by the Prussians this influential citizens are compelled to ride on the locomotives. The Prussians adopted this course to prevent the tearing up of trains by French non combatants.

A large number of Prussian prisoners were brought here to-day.

NAPOLEON INFORMED OF BAZAINE'S SURRENDER

Tours Oct 29 The news of capitulation of Metz was communicated at Wilhelmshohe today. The Emperor's household is in great suspense and consternation.

THIERS GOING TO PARIS

London, Oct 29 There is no confirmation of the rumored revolution in Paris or of fighting at La Villette.

M. Thiers accompanied by Count De Remusat has arrived at Lyons. Both have safe conducts to enter Paris.

THE GARIBALDIANS

Rome, Oct 29 The Official Gazette notifies the adherents of Garibaldi that they will lose their Italian citizenship by serving in the French armies.

GAMBETTA ON BAZAINE

Tours Oct 29 Owing to the rumors of Marshal Bazaine's capitulation Gambetta has issued a circular to the Prefects, saying "I have received from all sides grave reports, the veracity of which I cannot establish officially. If it be true Metz has capitulated. If it is so, it will you should have the opinion of the Government in the matter. Such an event could but be the result of crime, the authors of which should be outlawed. Be convinced that whatever should arise, nothing can abate our courage in this epoch of rascally capitulation. There exists one thing which neither can nor will capitulate, and that is the French Republic."

THE LAST SUMMONS TO SURRENDER

Berlin Oct 29 The Kreutz Zeitung of today says the last summons to surrender has been forwarded to the military authorities in Paris the Paris fortifications, and the bombardment of the city will commence early next week.

The Prussian division heretofore before Metz has gone to the siege of Paris.

DISPATCH FROM KING WILLIAM.

Berlin, Oct. 29 The King telegraphs to the Queen as follows:

Versailles Oct. 29 The defeat of the two hostile armies which recently marched against us warrants me in conferring on our two commanders, Fritz and Frederick Charles, the baton of a Field Marshal, the first instance of such an appointment in our family history.

[Signed] WILLIAM

Special to N Y Herald

KING WILLIAM TO BE MADE EMPEROR.

London, Oct. 29 The Northern and Southern States of Germany are said to have agreed to name King William, Emperor.

THE SPOILS

captured at Metz include 30,000 guns and 40,000,000f of the French civil Government Department funds.

THE BONAPARTISTS IN DESPAIR

Brussels 29 The capitulation of Metz has thrown the Bonapartists into despair. This city is the grand centre of their schemes—Dinners at Countess Waleweski's are regular agencies of political seduction.

Pietri, Conti, President Devienne, Mesdames Bazaine and Tearabert, Princess De Metternich and Mathilde are all here. Brussels newspapers denounce the proceedings of this coterie.

General Sheridan is here. He maintains a rigid reserve as to the war. He says the time has not come for him to speak. The statement of news and opinions already published as coming from him is wholly unauthorized. He never wrote a line about war except confidentially. He leaves this week for Italy and perhaps Constantinople.

London 30 M Thiers declined the Prussian safe conduct to Paris because it requires he shall go by way of Versailles.

WEST VIRGINIA ELECTION.

WHEELING, Oct. 29.

Incomplete returns from about 20 counties, embracing two-thirds of the State, show large Democratic gains—enough to announce the State carried by the Democrats by 1000 majority. The Republicans concede this. The Democrats have also elected two Congressmen from the First and Third Districts, and will control the next Legislature, which elects a U S Senator.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.

WATERVILLE, (Me.) Oct. 29.

A fire broke out in the lock-up in this town last night, which was soon extinguished, but Joseph McClukey, a Frenchman, confined for drunkenness, was smothered to death.

BANGOR & PISCATAQUIS RAILROAD. A bill in equity having been filed, praying for an injunction to restrain the city of Bangor from purchasing the claim under the award of referees, (or the judgment, when issued thereon,) obtained by John B. Jones & Co., of Lewiston, against the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad Company, according to the vote of the City Council on Monday evening, Oct. 24th, a hearing was had before Judge Appleton on Saturday, when the question was argued by Hon. A. G. Wakefield for the petitioners and A. L. Simpson, Esq., City Solicitor, for the city of Bangor. The argument for the petitioners was in substance, that the purchase could not be legally made, under the provisions of the act of the Legislature authorizing the city to grant additional aid to the Railroad. The reply was that the purchase of the claim was authorized by said act of the Legislature, that the city, owning as it does, four-sevenths of the stock of the road, has a right to purchase, in order to protect said stock and prevent its sacrifice by a sale of the road on an execution, and, that the purchase would really be a benefit to the road. Judge Appleton reserved his decision, but it will probably be made public in a few days.

—A correspondent, alluding to the recent death of Mr Chas. A. Hobart, late of the firm of A. Hobart & Son of Newport, of typhoid fever, states that his loss is keenly felt by the community who held him in high estimation for his many excellent traits, both in business and social life.

—The Lewiston Journal says a firm in that city purchased Wednesday a package of silver crown pieces worth $50. This money has been owned by an old gentleman who has for over sixty years kept it solely to look at. Had he put it at interest at the rate now paid by savings banks, his little pile would now be worth nearly $4000. Not a piece of the money bears later date than 1700.

—The Lewiston Journal says on Wednesday 20th, Mr William Mears of New Harbor accompanied by his two sons, Edgar and William, aged respectively 20 and 14 years, started out fishing in a sail boat. Off Pemaquid light, they were capsized by a flaw of wind. The boat sank immediately, being heavily ballasted. Mr. Mears seized a floating sail and a small buoy. By the aid of these he sustained himself and youngest son until rescued. The other son supported himself with an oar a short time, finally overcome by the heavy sea he sank to rise no more. The two survivors after remaining in the water some time, were picked up by Capt Yates of the schooner A L Fitch, Bristol, and brought back to New Harbor.

BANGOR PRODUCE MARKET.

SATURDAY, Oct 29th, 1870

The following report is obtained by particular observation on the market, and the quotations are the prices paid for produce from the country teams this day, or about the average for the week past.

HAY—The best qualities of loose hay have sold during the past week at from $20 to $22, and $23 per ton. The inferior grades, have sold at less price, according to quality. All descriptions of hay seem to sell about as soon as it gets on the market. The quantity coming in just now is not great.

STRAW—Good loose straw sells at from $8 to $10 per ton

OATS are not coming in very plenty and seem to be worth on the market from 60 to 62 and 65 cents per bushel, according to the quality of the produce

BARLEY is now selling at the even price of 80 cents per bushel for a good quality of grain

BEANS—Good clean yellow eyes are selling at from $2,25 to $2,30 per bushel, and extra hand picked blue pods, or pea beans, are worth from $2,50 to $2,75.

BUTTER—About all of this article that is brought to market is of a common, or only a fair quality and sells at from 38 to 40 and 42 cents, but a real nice article of lump is scarce and would sell at a higher price. Solid butter is not in much demand yet, but we should quote a good sweet article at from 35 to 38 cents per pound

APPLES are very plenty on the market, and sell variously at from 40 to 60 and 75 cents per bushel according to the size and quality of the fruit.

EGGS are now growing scarce as the grass hoppers have left the fields. They sold on our market to-day at 30 cents per dozen

POTATOES are now the leading article of produce in our market, and to-day they seemed to take the range of price from 60 to 65 cents per bushel

POULTRY—Chickens sell on our market at about 15 cents per pound, and turkies from 16 to 17 and 18 cents per pound

FRESH MEATS—Round hogs are worth from 12 to 13 cents per pound,—not but few selling at the latter price—mostly by contract. Beef sells at from 5 to 8 and 10 cents per pound by the side, for a common to a good article. An extra article is scarce and would sell at a higher price

WOOD—Good seasoned hard wood sells at from $7,00 to $7,50 per cord, and dry soft is worth from $4,00 to $5,00

COAL—Hard coal is sold and delivered at from $8,25 to $8,75 per ton, and charcoal at 17 cents per bushel

STATE CONVENTION—Y. M C A

AUGUSTA, Oct 29, 1870

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

THURSDAY EVENING

The opening services commenced with the singing of "Coronation," after which Rev Mr Martin read a portion of the 118th Psalm, and offered prayer

Rev Dr Ricker of Augusta in behalf of the Augusta Association, and the Christian people of the place, extended fraternal greetings to the convention

Rev Mr Fay of Bangor, responded in behalf of the convention, and spoke at some length on the importance of the annual conventions

Mr Chase, President of the Convention, made some brief remarks, and after singing, the question for the evening was taken up—"The religious work of the Association, and what is it intended to accomplish?"

Capt Cyrus Sturtevant of Portland, opened the discussion, which was participated in by Messrs R C Morse of New York, and McKenney of Portland. The discussion was then suspended and devotional exercises ensued, in which many joined

A dispatch was received by Mr Rowland conveying to him the intelligence of the death of his father. Fervent prayer was offered in his behalf by Mr Cargill of Augusta. As Mr Cargill would be compelled to leave on the early train, he took leave of the convention in some parting words of exhortation

Mr Moody of Chicago, then took the stand and addressed the convention for nearly an hour on the great work of saving young men and the necessity of a thorough study of God's work. It was a most earnest and eloquent appeal

After singing the benediction was pronounced by Rev Mr Ladd, and the convention adjourned

FRIDAY FORENOON

A morning prayer meeting was held from 8 to 9 o'clock, which was led by Mr D L Moody of Chicago. About a hundred persons took part in the meeting, which was very interesting. At 9 the convention was called to order. At the opening services, E Sands of Lewiston, resigned the office of Vice President, and C M Fairfield of Winthrop, was appointed in his stead. The convention decided to meet at Biddeford next year

The claims of the Association Monthly, was urged by its editor, Mr Morse of New York, after which reports from the Association at Augusta, Yarmouth, Waterville, Auburn and Winthrop were made by delegates

At 10 o'clock the convention proceeded to discuss the topic of cottage and neighborhood meetings. The discussion was opened by H E Palmer of Bath, who was followed by Mr. Storer of Yarmouth, Rev S P Fay of Bangor, Rev John Allen of Farmington, Messrs Sturtevant of Portland, Jordan of Auburn, Rev Mr Boyd of Biddeford, and Moody of Chicago

The topic of "social gatherings" was discussed by Messrs F L Dingley of Auburn, Morse of New York, Moody of Chicago, the President, Mr Chase, Messrs Lee of New York, and Southworth of Portland.

The Hymn—

"How sweet the name of Jesus sounds,"

was sung, and the subject of "Raising Funds" was opened by Mr. Moody of Chicago, and at the conclusion of his remarks a collection was taken of about seventy-five dollars.

The report of the committee on credentials showed eighty delegates present, representing seventeen Associations. There were many churches represented by pastors and others

The question drawer was opened, and a large number of questions, answered by Mr Moody.

AFTERNOON.

A half hour's prayer meeting was held. The convention was called to order at 2½ o'clock, by the President. Joined in singing hymn, commencing—

"How gentle God's commands"

Rev B. A. Roble of Waterville, read selections of Scriptures and offered prayer.

The hymn was sung—

"Stand up and bless the Lord"

The topic "Our duty as associated young men to the young men of the State," was taken up and discussed by A. C Palmer of Bath, Rev Messrs Fay of Bangor, Wellcome of Yarmouth, and Ladd of Waterville, the President, Mr. Moody, Hon T H. Hubbard, of Biddeford, and others.

The concluding topic for discussion was "What attitude should our Associations take in reference to the moral reforms of the present time?" This was opened by Mr Boyd of Biddeford, who was followed by Rev. Mr. Martin, Fuller, Times of Hallowell and others, after which the hymn was sung,

"My soul be on thy guard."

The question drawer was then opened and its contents discussed, after which Mrs. Whitmire of Pennsylvania, addressed the convention.

EVENING

The convention met for the closing exercises at 7 o'clock.

After singing, a portion of Scripture was recited by Camp Meeting John Allen.

Prayer was offered by Rev Mr Baker of Winthrop.

The evening was then given up to devotional exercises, in which twenty-five or thirty persons took part

At the close of the devotional exercises Mrs Whitmire again addressed the convention

A collection was taken up amounting to $87 40, for the objects of the State convention

Mr. Moody of Chicago then gave the closing address of the convention

The President offered a few parting words, the customary resolutions for courtesies extended were passed, and a silent prayer offered of one minute, broken by Rev. Dr. Ricker.

At quarter to 10 o'clock the exercises of the evening and the meeting of the convention closed

The members of the convention are under many obligations to the brethren in Augusta for their kindness and hospitality. P.

THE RAILROAD ACCIDENT AT BRUNSWICK. The place where the accident of Thursday afternoon took place on the Bath branch of the Portland & Kennebec Railroad was Thompson's Brook, about a mile west of Harding's station. The train consisted of (after the tender) an empty box car, three platform cars, followed by a baggage car and two passenger cars. The accident was caused by the breakage of a wheel on the rear platform car. It split in two exactly equal pieces, one of which was thrown up through the footboard of the baggage car following—Mr. Crawford, the baggage master, was standing on the platform at the moment. The fragment of wheel struck him with great force, breaking his left arm, cutting his clothes across the abdomen, crushing his foot and making several contusions. He was carried into the air by the fragment, which tore off the shutter of the platform, and landed on the ground at some distance. It was the internal wounds that proved fatal. An examination of the broken wheel showed that it had been cracked across the whole width, inside of the "tread," except a place about one by two inches in dimensions, near the axle. In one place the grease of months had been forced into the crevice. The persons injured were all in the baggage car. None of the wounds are serious.

Coroner Charles H Hall of Portland, by direction of the County Attorney, went to Brunswick and impanelled a jury of inquest, who returned a verdict "that the deceased, George W Crawford, came to his death on Thursday, Oct 27th, at 2 30 o'clock p m, on the Bath branch of the Portland & Kennebec Railroad, by the breaking of a wheel on a platform car, belonging to the Androscoggin Railroad and throwing the cars from the track at Thompson's Brook in Brunswick. And the jury severely censure the employes of said Androscoggin Railroad Company, for suffering the wheel to be run on the road."

of the Company remain which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among their advantages are—
1st The road is nearly finished and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days
2d The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid
3d It runs through a most superb agricultural country
4th It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South
5th The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile while many other roads are bonded to double this amount
6th The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists who have invested a large sum in its construction and who have every reason to take care of its obligations
7th A first Mortgage for so small an amount upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands may well be considered a perfectly safe security

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments and buy really First class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold Governments must decline also

TIDINGS FROM OVER THE SEA.

BY REBECCA R PIERCE.

Dreaming, I wandered by the sea,
Where wild winds held their revelry,
When lo! a dark wave said to me
In deeper tones, mournfully—

"Mortal the lonely heart prepare
For oh! the tidings of woe I bear,
Will fill thy soul with deep despair—
Tidings from over the sea!"

"For far away 'neath stranger skies,
All cold and still a fair form lies,
And close I in death the lovely eyes
Of thy darling over the sea!"

"And oh! I am sad for the woful day,
When we bore your dear one far away
From the loving hearts that will mourn for aye,
Over the surging sea!"

"And from our depths with grief oppressed
We sorrow for thee with a real sad interest,—
And I'll bear her gently on my breast,
Tenderly back to thee!"

The wave recede I from the shore,
But still I heard above the roar
Of angry surges, "I'll restore
Thy darling back to thee!"

FRENCH FASHIONS FOR LADIES.—A correspondent of the N Y, Herald sends the following fashion gossip from Dieppe, a French watering place, thronged with stylish refugees from Paris

There are no young ladies left at large anywhere this season They have all been packed off out of the way of the "barbarous hordes," and it is well known that elderly ladies who bathe won't trust themselves to a bather

They may sort of their so called "bathing machines (not their costumes but those small booths with pegs inside on which hang their panniers and chignons) all along planks to preserve their feet from the shingles, and this run is rather fantastic than otherwise, but when the first dip has caused so many tried figures to disclose their outlines, and some other shock because they have incautiously swallowed a whole gulp of sea water or sneeze to have to blink till the salt is out of their eyes I maintain there is more of nature than grace in such attitudes

I soon discovered that these were not the sole advantages of Dieppe when in addition the arrival of Vesperos, such! There came a shoal of Russian princess and the ex-noblesse from Versailles, by way of Dreux and Rouen They came pouting to the Casino in their energe headdresses and with quantities of powder on their faces They were but indigestory bait but their corset Partsam attire was a blow to my heart. It combined one of the drive in the Bois and of the boulevards Of course all these gay beauties had had to quit and were going to Brighton, Torquay and other fashionable places

I will describe some of their dresses for thoughtful worn by the wives of bygards they were of the latest French styles and are sure to create a sensation Lavender was one of the favored colors, trimmed with black for garnet velvet and white muslin plaiting

The weather being still admirably fine and the atmosphere warm, bodies were frilled round the opening in front with ruffs snowy muslin, deep Valenciennes and Flemish lace

The "free shooter's jacket" also appeared It is nothing but the well known polonaise blouse of cashmere worn as a blouse and tucks in one somewhat full behind under the waist belt. It was also made of foulard and mounted with cerulean

The tailor regiment jacket is another of the winter shadows cast before, for are the fur not all going to be Reginents Cocktern? It is blue cloth, and sits half loosely in front the going a vest underneath but it is tight in the back and there are little square basques lined with scarlet which relieve the warlike appearance of this battle piece

All other jackets were richly braided with black so richly and elaborately that a coat look like Oriental arabesque Lace insertion both white and ecru was worn between bands of silk, and was sewn round flounces of silk, exactly as this trimming has been worn on lawn and muslin all summer Leru lace and gold chestnut silk are very pretty in this style

The most striking of the new autumn dresses was the "mitrailleuse, a steel blue poult trimmed, of course, with flutings that look like organ gun tubes, above the deep flounce round the bottom of the underskirt

The warmer dresses were Ll ma or Algerin satin and wool (white) over velvet petticoats The fringe round these Llamas is wool, white and black fleece, r Thibet fringe

Tyrolean hats will fight this year out, silver daggers have to fly them on through thick and thin—chignon I rather admired a white felt one with a scarlet feather, which was pointed with black and tipped dutto all round.

Crepe de chine will also continue on the scene of war with marabout fringe, and rule the over blue cerise and maize in her petticoats

The pongy ball robe is just entered it wise on the field It is a white muslin dress made with a train and flounce above which a thick ruche of peony pink silk, cut out in the petal shape and drawn together so as to form a flower heading to the flounce There are three white muslin panters behind to this and between each is pearl beaded silk ends The same ruche round the bodice

The feather ruche robe is also white muslin with blue threaded out to form a plume, and drawn together in ruche for trimmings

I noticed that tunics are no longer so much worn separated above under petticoats; but the slices are gradually very much flounced pinked or frilled and the bodices made with basques to correspond in every possible cut and shape It is true to remark that the race of detherond Paris tailors appears to have vented itself on ladies' basques, so much slashed are they

Then some jackets have short fronts and long backs, others long fronts and scarcely any backs, some have two fronts one underneath, like a waistcoat much pulled down and a tail over it besides These vagaries will not last and it would be a pity to invest in them

Coat shaped casaques will They bust, however have a mysterious pocket with flaps, a fine jabot and lace ruffles to fall over the wrist I can only account for these large pockets in the following way I believe it is a bit of Fashion's wit at the expense of Prussian requisitions," and the lace means how ability the term which dresses up 'plunder,' but that is neither here nor there just now it is everywhere

DONS PIATT AND THE POSTMASTER I had been at Lake George some two weeks without getting any mail matter, although I had sent seven times every day I wended one at last, I well myself I found a little shady haired, heavy jawed, full stomached man pegging away at an old boot on a cobblers bench I asked this industrious son of St. Crispin for the Postmaster

"I am him," responded the shoemender

He might be a Sam or a him, but I looked incredulous upon the fact asserted or referred to of Postmaster He continued to drive in the pegs, whistling as shoemakers are wont to whistle in a wavy way, a tune that, when accompanied by the proper words, refer to some sort of accordiality of the weasels when popping, whatever that may be I looked for this vegetable production with carroty hair and reddish cheeks, as he pegged and popped, and finding that he intended taking no further notice of me, I mildly suggested that if he were the Postmaster would he be pleased to get my letters and papers

"What's your name?" he asked, suspending the whistle popping of the weasel, but going on with his exasperating work

I responded by giving the cognomen, and was told, briefly, words, to wit

"Ain't nothing for you, and then he took up the extraordinary weasel I remonstrated and asserted that there must be some mistake

"Well," he said, 'go look for yourself. There's the P's"

I did as directed, and found eighteen letters and a pile of newspapers.

"What the devil do you mean by saying I had no mail?"

"Is that your name?" he asked coolly

"Well, I thought it was Daniel Pratt."

I was rapidly resolving into an indignation meeting, with divers resolutions, and a strong tendency to punch somebody's head, "You thought that name Daniel Pratt, did you? Well, it strikes me that it would be well for you to learn reading and writing before playing the devil in a post office"

"Well, stranger," he responded, suspending both music and work, "if I had such an outlandish name as your'n I'd go back and be a baby, so as to be christened over' I would"

HUSK MATTRESSES.—Among the best materials for making mattresses are husks. Now is the time to gather them. While the husking is in process, separate the clean white portions from those that are water-stained or dirty, throwing them into a basket placed conveniently near. When a sufficient quantity is obtained, they can be tied as they are taken off; but they make a much better bed if they are drawn several times over an old-fashioned hatchel, or, if nothing of this kind is at hand, one can be made by driving such and a half or eight-nails through a half inch dash board, the projecting parts bent to form a square, and the husks into strips. The nails should be the strongest material—iron is the best and if once filled with these husks, you have a mattress that will wear evenly and be lasting

CURING MEAT.—At this season of the year the thoughts of almost every farmer are more or less to the processes of curing meat, all over the land. Most farmers have a pig or two and some have mutton or beef, and the quality of the meat which is to be used for the family, will depend a good deal on the way in which it is cured

There are various modes of curing meat, but one of the best, perhaps, is that suggested by the German town Telegraph, which is as follows

To one gallon of water, take one and a half pounds of salt, half a pound of sugar, half an ounce of saltpetre, half an ounce of potash In this ratio the pickle to be increased to any quantity desired Let these be boiled together until all the dirt from the sugar rises to the top and is skimmed off Then throw it into a tub to cool, and, when cold, pour it over your beef or pork, to remain the usual time say four or five weeks The meat must be well covered with pickle, and should not be put down for at least two days after killing, during which time it should be slightly sprinkled with saltpetre, which removes all the surface blood ots, leaving the meat fresh and clean Some omit boiling the pickle, and find it to answer well, though the operation of boiling, purifies the pickle by throwing off the impurities which are to be found in salt and sugar

If this receipt is properly tried it will never be abandoned There is none that surpasses it, it so, good

GET READY FOR PLOWING.—It may seem to many that there is but little meaning to the heading of this article; but to the thoughtful farmer it is a subject of vast import ance—one that ought to be strongly impressed upon the minds of all farmers for there is much to be learned in plowing, and much more in the words, get ready before you commence to plow your land Plowing ought not to be done wholly for the purpose of getting good crops, but rather more for improvement in the soil and also for the improvement in the appearance in your fields Now, in order to do this you must first get ready, and here is just where the trouble is, we do not stop to get our land in readiness but go at it in a hurry, and hurry it through This may do in some cases, where the fields are old and very smooth but on the majority of farms in Maine there is a great deal to do, or that ought to be done in the way of getting ready for ploplow That removes all stumps and roots, old logs and all kinds of rubbish such as brush piles bushes, &c Then clear off every available stump—and here I would say, if you are able and not in debt split on blast those that cannot be moved by other means, for it will pay you in time It does cost you dear, but I would not advise any one to get into debt by so doing—better wait till you are able, then you can do it and owe no man for it. After removing all stumps and stones that it is possible to remove, do not forget to fill up all cavities &c, caused by their removal, for the plow cannot make good work where the surface is so uneven Having prepared your land the next important thing is a good team and a good plow Your team should be steady, and strong enough to draw your plow true, and as deep as you may wish If it is your desire to plow for the purpose of levelling your land, it can best be done by plowing as deep as possible, for if you are plowing for a crop of corn, and have plenty of dressing it would be better to plow ten or twelve inches deep Poor Richards says "Plow deep while sluggards sleep and you will have corn to sell and to keep" But if you are plowing for a crop of potatoes, it would be better, if you had but little, or no manure, to plow but five or six inches deep so that the turf may come in contact with them and therefore act as a manure, for the turf is the natural manurel for the potato This may be wandering somewhat from the subject, but may properly come under the head of plowing and may be of some value if it be so considered Therefore make it your rule to prepare your land before commencing to plow and plow with this object constantly in mind—plow for improvement, and not for the purpose of impoverishing your land, and be sure to lean to your team in a better condition than when you commenced with it It this method were constantly practiced, a better system of farming would be brought about—Maine Farmer

A WOMAN'S INFLUENCE.—The Rockland (Me.) Register of October 22 says

Dropping into the court room the other day, we were struck with the unusual decorum prevailing within the hallowed precincts wherein his honor Judge Brown, presides, and dispenses impartial justice to all applicants We observed fewer loafers sitting upon tables and railings, and less lounging in unseemly attitudes than usual while we noticed an unwonted quietness of attire and evidence of more than ordinary attention to their back hair on the part of sundry of the younger members of the bar, the our friends Coombs and Wyman Looking around to see the cause of this altered aspect of affairs we discovered it in the person of a charming young lady, who occupied a chair within the bar, and was watching the progress of a case with as much interest as any of the legal gentlemen present, indeed, it is our opinion that she gave it closer attention than did some of the younger attorneys actually engaged, to whose eyes were occasionally gobstruy

Upon inquiry, we learned that the young lady, whose name is Miss Alta M. Hallett is pursuing a regular course of legal study with Messrs Lithrop & Baldly, with a view to fit herself for the practice of the law She is a young lady of more than ordinary personal attractions, bright and prepossessing in appearance, and evidently in earnest in her purpose to acquire a profession

WHY LACE IS COSTLY.—The manufacture of lace is carried to its highest perfection in Belgium The finest specimens on Brussels lace are so complicated as to require the labor of seven persons on one piece, and each operative is employed at distinct natures of the work One thread used is of exquisite fineness which is spun in a dark underground rooms, where it is sufficiently moist to prevent the thread from separating It is so delicate as scarcely to be seen, and the room is so arranged that all the light admitted shall fall upon the work "It is such material that renders the genuine Brussels ground so costly On a piece of Valenciennes not two inches wide from one to three hundred bobbins are sometimes used, and for the larger widths as many as eight hundred on the same piece The most valuable Valenciennes is determined by the number of times the bobbins have been twisted in weaving the ground, the more frequent the twist the closer and more beautiful will be the lace But him in usually sells of this la dor to the value of over $4,000,000 Circulate lace is generally black, and is used chiefly for [illegible]

WOMAN.
Females, owing to the peculiar and important relations which they sustain, their peculiar organization, and the offices they perform, are subject to many sufferings Freedom from these contributes in no small degree to their happiness and welfare, for none can be happy who are ill Not only so, but no one of these various female complaints can long be suffered to run on without involving the general health of the individual, and ere long producing permanent sickness and premature decline Nor is it pleasant to consult a physician for the relief of these delicate affections, and only upon the most urgent necessity will a true woman so far sacrifice her greatest charm as to do this The sex will then thank us for placing in their hands simple specifics which will be found efficacious in relieving and curing almost every one of these troublesome complaints peculiar to the sex

Helmbold's Extract Buchu
Hundreds suffer on in silence, and hundreds of others apply vainly to druggists and doctors, who offer mercury, tantalize them with the hope of a cure or apply remedies which make them worse. I would not wish to assert anything that would do injustice to the afflicted, but I am obliged to say that nothing in the powers of life by laborious employment unwholesome air and food, profuse menstruation, the use of tea and coffee, and frequent child birth it is far oftener caused by direct irritation applied to the mucous membrane of the vagina itself
When reviewing the causes of these distressing complaints it is most painful to contemplate the attendant evils consequent upon them It is but simple justice to the subject to enumerate a few of the many additional causes which so largely affect the life, health, and happiness of women in all classes of society, and which, consequently, affect, more or less directly, the welfare of the entire human family It is an idea that exists for procedures education and marriage, causes the years that nature designed for corporeal development to be wasted and perverted in the restraints of dress the confinement of school and especially in the unhealthy excitement of the ball room Thus with the body half clothed, and the mind unduly excited by pleasure perverting its midnight revel the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest the work of destruction is half accomplished
In consequence of this early strain upon her system, unnecessary effort is required by the delicate votary to retain her situation in school or later day thus aggravating the evil When one excitement is over, another is prospective keeps the mind morbid is sensitive to impression, while the now constant restraint of fashionable dress, absolutely forbidding the exercise indispensable to the attainment and retention of organic health an I strength the exposure at night after the sudden change of temperature, the complete prostration produced by excessive dancing, must, of necessity, produce their baneful effect At last, an early marriage capture an heiress of misery, and the unfortunate one, hitherto utterly regardless of the plain dictates and requirements of other delicate nature becomes an unwilling subject of medical treatment This is but a faithful picture of the experience of thousan is of our young women
Now, before the ability to exercise the functions of reproductive organs, they require an education of peculiar nervous system, composed of what is called the tissue, which is in common with the formation of nerves and ligaments lently under the control of nutritious actions and associations at an early period of life and as we shall subsequently see these [illegible] which sap the very life of their victims are [illegible] has self completed their development
